

The Late Person

Disrupt the daily scrum by turning up late and offering pathetic excuses.

The Phone Person

Disrupt the daily scrum by constantly answering calls on your phone in a loud voice.

The Status Reporter

Constantly keep fixed eye contact with the Scrum Master and ignore everyone else when it is your turn.

The Mumbler

Mumble in an incomprehensible language that no one can understand when it is your turn to talk.

The Interrupter

Interrupt anyone else who is talking with a pointless fact

The Noisy Observer

Disrupt the daily scrum with questions.
If someone asks you a question just say “I am an observer”

The Dominator

Dominate the meeting by getting a solution from the others to an important impediment that you have just found.

The Rambler

When it is your turn do not stop talking until someone says the word “stop”

The Clarifier

Ask 3 clarifying questions to each person whose turn it is in the daily scrum

The Disrespectful

Attempt to attract others to your own private conversation during the daily scrum
