

De-Dominator

Dependencies

When To Use

When your team is using agile and a team that you are dependent on is using waterfall

Approach

Refine the backlog to provide regular prototypes that can be modelled as consumers of the other teams' services. These prototypes can then be used to inform the formal specifications that are requested from the waterfall teams.

Beware...

Reconnect regularly especially if the projects have risk of diverging rather than converging

